To the PUBLIC, New-York, Oct. 16, 1766 TT is now upwards of fix Years that I have publith'd a weekly News Paper, under the Title of the New-York Gazette or Weekly Post-Boy, which I have the Pleasure to think has been generally acceptable, and publicly useful: But having now Occasion to alter the Title of my Paper, I hope for the fame favourable Reception of the NEW-YORK JOURNAL OF GENERAL ADVERTISER, that my Paper met with under the former Title; fince it will be conducted with the fame Spirit, and to the fame Ends,—the Suppression of Evil, and the Promotion of public and private Happiness. The Reasons of altering my Title are these, 1st, for the Sake of Distinction, as I am inform'd Mr. PARKER intends to publish a Paper under the former Title; and 2d, because, as he formerly publish'd a Paper under that Title, I would not avail myfelf of any Advantages from a Name originally affumed by him. The Number, for the Sake of more eafily fettling with my Cultomers, will run regularly on from my last Week's Paper. Perhaps, when Opportunity permits, I shall procure a Cut for the Head of my Paper, till which Time, it will be published in its present Form. JOHN HOLT.

IT is hoped that the Gentlemen who were pleased to fign the Re-- commendation to the following Petition, and which was therewith presented to the last General Assembly of this Province, will excuse the Publication of their Names, as we have no other Means to clear ourselves of a scandalous Accusation, which we are informed by Benjamin Fowler, Esq; is brought against us by Col, Frederick Philips, of having the Names of three Gentlemen, who never sub-Scribed to the faid Recommendation, Viz. Dott. Robert Grabam, Mr. Stephen Ward, and the faid Benjamin Fowler, Efq; one of bis Majesty's Justices of the Peace, inserted in the List of Subscribers to the same, which, if so, must have been forged while in

As the Inhabitants of this Golony in general, and many others, have received great Benefit by the Erection of the Free-Bridge, which we undertook at first with as great a Regard to the public Good as our own private Advantage, and as we have hitherto, not only received no Reward for this Service, but have done it at the expence of a very large Sum of our own Property, which we have lain out of many Years, it cannot but be thought extremely hard that it should also bring upon our Characters so cruel and injurious an Aspersion—and we hope that high Regard which every bonest Man ought to have for his Character, will sufficiently justify us for taking this Method to clear ours, from so scaudalous an Imputation.

JACAB DEYCKMAN, Junr.

JOHN VERMILIE. To the Honourable the GENERAL ASSEMBLY, for the Province of New-York.

The PETITION of JACOB DYCKMAN, BENJAMIN PALMER, and JOHN VERMILIE; HUMBLY SHEWETH,

THAT your Petitioners have with great Pains and Labour, erected a Bridge over Harlem River, a little to the Southward of a Place called and known by the Name of King's-Bridge, and that the faid Bridge has been, and is now of great Benefit and Utility to the Public;

and that for want of proper Support and Affiliance, it is likely foon to come to Decay, and the Public again reduced to the Necessity of paying to the Toll-Bridge as formerly: And also that your Petitioners having expended upwards of One Thoufand Pounds, in erecting and repairing the same, have rethat Purpose; so that your Petitioners are in Arrearage upwards of Seven Hundred Pounds, as will appear by the Accompts now in the Roffession of the House, attested before the Mayor of the City of New-York : Therefore your Petitioners humbly Pray, that the Honourable House would take the Matter of their Petition in Consideration, and grant them fuch Relief in the Premises, as they in their great Wisdom thall think fit, and your Petitioners shall ever pray, &c.

The above Petition was prefented to the General Assembly with a Recommendation, fignifying the Truth of the Facts therein mentioned, the great public Benefit of the faid Bridge, the Reasonableness of the Petition, &c. and praying that the Petitioners should be allowed such Compensation, Relief and Affistance, as the General Assembly in their Wisdom should think proper. This Recommendation, was subscribed by the following Inhabitants and Gentlemen, and no others, viz.

Extract from a Book lately published, entitled, Interesting historical Events, relative to the Provinces of Bengal, and the Empire of Indostan, by I. Z. Holwell, Efq.

A MONG other historical Facts, Mr. Holwell gives the following circumstantial Account of the burning of a Gentoo Lady, with her Husband's Body. [The Custom of Widows burning themselves with their deceased Husbands, is reported to have taken rife on the following Occasion. The The Crime of poisoning their Husbands was become so common among the Women in that Country that upon the Death of every Husband, his Widow was suspected of having poisoned him. In order to clear herself from this Suspicion, and to show her Love of her deceased Husband, a Widow of high Quality, probably stimulated by the Bramins (Priests) and her Relations, who were to share her Riches, offer'd to burn with her Husband, obtain'd Permission for it of the Government, and actually burnt herfelf with him.—The Honours done her by the Government, and the Applauses bestow'd by all Ranks of People, raised a Spirit of Emulation, in other Ladies to follow the Example—it was encouraged by the Government as it effectually put a Stop to the Crime of Husband-poifoning till at length it became so common that no Woman of the least Account would servive her Husband. - For tho' the was not by the Laws to be forced to burn, yet if the refused, the was treated with all Manner of Contempt, Infult and Detertation, by her Friends and all the World; degraded from her Rank, disown'd by her Relations, look'd upon as her Husband's Murderer, a despised lonth'd Vagabond, and made fo wretched that her Life was worfe than Death. So powerful is the Operation of Cust tom, that the Government at last found it necessary to interpose in Order to prevent the Distruction of the Human Species, and a Law was made which is still in force, that no Woman shall have Liberty to burn herself with her dead Husband's Body, without Permission from a great Officer of State. However it is a Favour that is feldom refused to great Ladies, when they resolutely infift upon it. I

A T five of the clock in the morning, of the 4th of February, 1742-3 died Rhaam Chund Pundit, of the Mahahrattor tribe, aged twenty-eight years; his widow (for he had but one wife) aged between 17 and 18, as foon as he expired, difaining to wait the term allowed her for reflection, immediately declared to the Bramins and witnesses present, her refolution to burn; as the family was of no small, confideration, all the merchants o. Coffinbuza, and her relations, left no arguments unaffayed to diffuade her from it. Lady Ruffel, with the tenderest humanity, fent her several messages to the same purpose; the infant state of her children (two, girls and a boy, the eldeft not four years of age) and the terrors and pain of the death the fought, were painted to her in the strongest and most lively, colouring; the was deaf to all-we gratefully thanked Lady Ruffel, and fent her word, she bad now nothing to live for, but recommended her children. to her protection. - When the torments of burning were urged in terrorem to her, she, with a resolved and calm countenance, put her finger into the fire, and held it there a confiderable time; she then, with one hand, put fire in the palm of the other, iprinkled incense on it, and fumigated the Bramins. The consideration of her children lest destitute of a parent, was again urged to her. She replied, He that made them would take care of them.—She was at last given to understand she should not be permitted to burn +; this, for a fhort space, seemed to give her a deep affliction, but foon recollecting herfelf, she told them, Death was in her power, and that if she was not allowed to burn, according to the principles of her cast, she would starve herself .---Her friends finding her peremptory and refolved, were obliged at last to assent.

The Gentoos are not permitted to burn, without an order from the Mahommedan government, and this permission is commonly made a perquitite.

The body of the deceased was carried down to the water fide, early the following morning; the widow followed about ten o'clock, accompanied by three very principal Bramins, her children, parents, and relations, and a numerous concourse of people. The order of leave for her burning did not arrive from Hofeyn Khan, Fouzdaar of Morsbadabad, untill after one, and it was then brought by one of the Soubah's own officers, who had orders to fee that the burnt voluntarily. The time they waited for the order, was employed in praying with the Bramins, and washing in the Ganges. As soon as it arrived, the retired and stayed for the space of half an hour in the midst of her female relations, amongst whom was her mother; the then divested herfelf of her bracelets, and other ornaments, and tied them in a cloth which hung like an apron before her, and was conducted by her female relations to one corner of the pile; on the pile was an arched arbour, formed of dry sticks, boughs and leaves, open only at one end to admit her entrance. In this the body of the deceased was deposited, his head at the end opposite to the opening. At the corner of the pile, to which the had been conducted, the Bramin had made a finall fire, round which the and the three Bramins fat for some minutes, one of them gave into her hand a leaf of the bale tree (the wood commonly confecrated to form part of the funeral pile) with fundry things on it, which she threw into the fire; one of the others gave her a fecond leaf, which the held over the flame, whilst he dropped three times fome ghee on it, which melted, and fell into the fire (these two operations were preparatory symbols of her approaching dissolution by fire) and whilst they were performing this, the third Bramin read to her some portions of the Aughtorrah Bhadet, and asked her some questions, to which she answered with a fleady and ferene countenance; but the noise was fo great we could not understand what the said, although we were within a yard of her. These over, the was led with great tolemnity three times round the pile, the Bramins reading before her; when the came the third time to the imall fire; the stopped, took her rings off her toes and fingers, and put them to her other ornaments; here the took a solemn majestic leave of her children, parents, and relations; after which one of the Bramins dipt a large wick of cotton in some ghee, and gave it, ready lighted, into her hand, and led her to the open-fide of the arbor; there, all the Bramins tell at her feet :- After the had bleffed them, they retired weeping ;-by two steps the ascended the pile, and entered the arbor. On her entrance the made a profound reverence at the feet of the deceafed, and advanced and feated herfelf by his head; she looked, in filent meditation, on his face, for the space, of a minute, then set fire to the arbour, in three places; observing that she had set fire to leeward, and that the flames blew from her, instantly feeing her error, the rofe, and fet fire to the windward, and refumed her station. Ensign Daniel, with his cane, separated the grass and leaves on the windward fide, by which means we had a distinct view of her as the fat. With what dignity and undaunted countenance she set fire to the pile the last time, and affumed her feat, can only be conceived, for words cannot convey a just idea of her.—The pile being of combustible matters, the supporters of the roof were presently confumed, and it fell in upon her."

ROSEAU, (in Dominica) January 31. On Friday the 23d instant arrived at Prince Rupert's bay, his Majesty's frigate Levant, Captain Keith, in five weeks from Portsmouth, on her way to Jamaica. Buchannan, Esq; is appointed Receiver-General of the Southern Charibbee Islands, with a falary of twelve hundred pounds sterling per annum: That a seperate government would soon be established at Dominica; that the leat of government and places of public administration was to be held at Prince Rupert's bay; that a detachment of artillery, with a great quantity of ordnance stores, were ready, and under orders to fail for this island, in order to fortify the different harbours; and that several surveyors and artificers were ordered out to examine Prince Rupert's bay, a dock yard being intended to be immediately made there for repairing his Majesty's ships; it being looked upon as a much properer place for the rendezvouz of any squadron in time of war, than English harbour in Antigua.

† A paraphrastick comment on the Shosta.

From Guadaloupe we hear, that the late hard gales of wind have laid many of the cane pieces level with the ground, and done other very confiderable damage in that island, but we have not yet received

On Sunday evening the 25th, a large deep laden ship, supposed to be French, with her foremast and bowsprit carried away, was seen to leeward of Guadaloupe, lying too, endeavouring to resit, but as the wind then blew very hard, and a heavy sea running, it was thought she would be obliged to bear away. CHARLES-TOWN, (South-Carolina) January 5,

The 28th past put into Beaufort, Port-Royal, to resit, the brigantine King George, of and for New-York, from the Bay of Honduras, John Bleak, mafter, having forung a leak at fea, and made nine inches water in an hour.

The brig Ofwego, George Fowler master, from Falmouth, which arrived here last Monday, was bound for New-York, and been 93 days at sea, and received much damage in her sails and rigging, which obliged Captain Fowler to put in here to rest.

Friday put in here, the fnow Prince George, captain Askew, from Gallway, with Irish servants, bound for New-York, having met with very bad weather, and been blown off the coast.

And the brigantine Rebecca, Edward Rose master, from St. Eustatius, bound for Boston, and twice blown off the coast of New-England.

The exportation of Indian corn and peafe from Georgia, is prohibited, by a late act of affembly of that province, until the first day of September.

Seven traders from Virginia, were found murdered near Cowhee, in the Cherokee country the 9th of last month, but none of their goods touched. The northern Indians continues their incursions into that country; but those murders are supposed to have been perpetrated by Cherokees, in the way of taking satisfaction for former injuries received from the Virginians.

QUEBEC, February 9 Saturday night last, Captain John Malcom, together with his fon and daughter, was going from town to his country-house, in a Cariole, about four o'clock in the afternoon, he was met on the road, between the wind-mill and St. John's-Gate, by Lieut. Burns, of the 52d regiment, walking into town, with a large club in his hand; upon his meeting Mr. Malcom he struck his horse and overset his Cariole; Mr. Malcom ask'd him what he meant by fuch usage, to which Mr. Burns made answer, That he would FINISH him, and immediately struck Mr. Malcom on the head, and by that stroke broke his club; but notwithstanding Mr. Malcom and his daughter's asking him his reason for so barbarous an affault, he struck him a second time, which knock'd Mr. Malcom down, and Mr. Burns continued knocking at Mr. Malcom, with the remains of the club, until he faw two men come up, upon which he immediately went away.

The fame Gazette also contains another long letter from the author of that in our supplement, of remarks upon M'Govocks account of being poison'd, with the mention of many circumstances to make it incredible, - particularly, that the wall of the prifon is very thick, the window small, and at least 14 feet from the ground,—fo that a person calling to him from without, to be heard, must have called so loud, that it was impossible the fentinel on duty should not have heard him. - The sentinel bore a very good character in general, and that he (the author) had applied to Captain Schlosser, commandant of the regiment, to whom the fentinel had been long known, who gave him the character of being a man of veracity—fober and vigilant upon guard. That his deposition was taken before two magistrates, remarkable for being detached from party, lovers of right, and univerfally esteemed in the province, that they used every precaution to impress upon his mind proper ideas of the folemn nature of an oath, previous to his deposition, which was as follows. JOHN COLLINS,

Yet we find by the following pieces in the same Gazette, that the account was not in that place, so incredible as it would appear by this writer.

To the PRINTERS.

Gazette, have observed a paragraph therein, giving an account of the wicked attempt on George M'Govock, the soldier of the 28th regiment, on whose testimony they are (as therein mentioned) now in custody at Montreal, for the barbarous assault committed on Mr. Thomas Walker, in December, 1764.

They therefore now defire you will be pleased to insert what follows in your next: That how soon they understood, after being apprehended, that their trial would not come on but at a very distant period, they eagerly prayed that Mc Govock should be put in gaol, and there kept, as a place of safety, till that welcome moment, and it is with equal concern they now learn that an attempt has been made to deprive them of that most necessary satisfaction: It is hoped, however, that none will omit any means in their power to discover the villain that has been guilty of so infamous an attempt.

The Person so discovering, or the giver of the poison himself, on discovering the villain who set him on, is hereby offered a reward of one hundred pounds sterling, by

LACORNE ST. LUC, SIMON EVANS,
JOHN CAMPBELL, JOSEPH HOWARD:
Montreal, 29th January, 1767.

Secretary's-Office, Quebec 6, 1767. 7 H E R E A S it has been suspected, that on Monday the 19th of January last, a most wicked attempt was made to murder one George M'Govock, a soldier of the 28th regiment, in the prison of this town, by giving him a dose of poison contained in a dram of rum, or some other strong liquor: In order therefore to discover and bring to condign punishment the perpetrators and contrivers of this attempt, his excellency the lieutenant governor of this province, doth hereby give publick notice, that if any person concerned in this attempt, except the person who actually administered the polion, will difcover the faid person who actually administered it, and give evidence against him in a court of justice, so that he may be thereof legally convicted, the person making such discovery, shall, upon the conviction of the faid principal offender, receive His Majesty's most gracious pardon for his share in the said offence.

By the Lieutenant Governor's Command,
J. GOLDFRAP, D. Secry.

The paper also contains the following advertisements relative to Mr. Walker's affair, viz.

1st. The governor and council, offering a reward of face sterling to any not the principal per-of £.200 sterling to any, not the principal perfon, who will discover the perpetrators of the faid villany, together with a free pardon; and if a foldier, a discharge from the army, if desired.

2d. The secretary of state, (Gen. Conway) with the same offers of pardon and discharge, and one hundred guineas from the Lords of the Treasury, and from

3d. Thomas Walker, Esq; with an offer of one hundred guineas upon conviction of one or more of the offenders—So that there is now an offer of £. 410 sterling for a discovery, that none but a villain would conceal.

On the 22d ult. one William Breden was found dead in Upper Dublin, in this County. It is thought he was in Liquor, and not being able to find his Way home, lay all Night, and perished with the Cold.

NEW-YORK, March 12.

We hear by Captain Field who left Jamaica the 17th of January, that the Crops there were but indifferent, that fince their Ports have been made free, for all Nations, they have been frequented, especially Kingston, by Spaniards, some French and others.—That they had heard from the Bay, that 3 or 400 Vessels were lying there, and that Trade was very dull.

On the 12th of February, Captain Field received considerable Damage in a severe Gale of Wind from the Westward, which lasted several Days: He spoke with no Vessels on the Passage.

The Brig Globe, Capt. Parker, arrived at Philadelphia from Dublin, brings News to the 5th of January, which we have not Room to infert, the most remarkable is, - The affairs of the Protestants in Poland, which feem to threaten the breaking out of Hostilities in that Kingdom.—The Members of the Dyet were extremely resolute in refusing the Indulgences claimed by the Protestants; on the other Hand, the Empress of Russia and King of Prussia, were equally peremptory in their Demands in their Favour. That feveral Thousands of Russian Troops had been some Months in Poland, living on the Estates of those Bishops, who most strongly opposed the Protestants, that 2000 of these Forces were within two Miles of the Capital of Poland, and more Troops were expected. That 1000 Prufhan Hussars had likewise entered Poland. That theKings of England and Denmark had also warmly interested themselves in favour of the Protestants, tho' not in fo menacing a Manner as the two former Sovereign's, and that the Affairs of that Country were in a very critical and alarming Situation.

That the King of Spain and his Family were return'd to his Capital after 8 Months absence, and were joyfully received .- That the Republick of Genoa had offer'd to take a Body of Sardinian Troops into pay, in Order to counteract the Defigns of the French in Corfica. That General Stanwix, his Lady and Daughter, another young Lady a Relation, and four Servants, with the Ships Crew were entirely loft, a Boat with fome of the People, having left the Ship almost ready to fink, and not being able to persuade the General to quit it. The Boat got ashore in Scotland and the Ship has not been fince heard of-That many complaints have been fent to England against the Spanish Governor of New-Orleans, for fearthing English Vessels in the Bay of Mexico .- That a Rupture is likely to happen between France and the Republic of Geneva. -And that great Numbers of the White-Boys in Ireland have had frequent Meetings of late, and threatened fresh Disturbances.

On the 2d. Jan. arrived at Charles Town in the sloop Betsy, Paul Dains, master, from New-York, an officer and 50 recruits for the 3 companies of his majesty's 60th (or Royal American) regiment, stationed in that province.

In the hard Gale of Wind, on Monday Night the and Instant, Mr. William Brazier, of this City, and two other Men in a small Sloop or Wood Boat, who were going a Fishing, and had anchor'd near Coney Island, in order to take in Ballast, were it is supposed all lost, the Boat having been found driven on Shore, and the Men not since heard of.

One—Rogers, a Soldier of the 26th Regiment, who we hear was condemn'd to have been Shot for Defertion, on Monday last, was it is said, on his own earnest Request seconded by the Minister who attended him, reprieved for a few Days.

The General Assembly of this Province; which stood prorogued to Tuesday the 10th Instant, on Monday last by Proclamation, was further prorogued to Thursday the 16th of April now next enfuing.

Publicola's Reply to Mr, Baldwin's Piece, came to Hand too late for this Week's Paper,—and as the Writer mentions his having wrote in haste, if he will let the Printer know how to direct a Letter that may get to his Hand, a Passage would be pointed out to him, that it is supposed he would choose to alter before it goes to the Press.]

THE HEIDELBERG CATECHISM, or METHOD of INSTRUCTION in the CHRISTIAN RELIGION, as the fame is taught in the Reformed Churches and Schools of HOLLAND.

Translated for the Use of the Resormed Protestant Dutch Church, of the City of New-York, examined, compared, and approved by the Consistory of the same, and by them recommended for the Use of Schools, and order'd to be printed. 2nd Edition.

The SUBSCRIBER

DURPOSES to open a Morning and Evening School, for the Instruction of Youth in Writing and Arithmetic-to commence the first of April next, and continue to the first of October following-Attendance will be given from fix to eight in the Morning, and from five to feven in the Evening precifely.—It is imagined that this Plan may fuit fome of both Sexes, who attend other Places of Education at different Periods, for other Purposes. Whoever is pleased to Favour this Scheme, may depend on being served with Fidelity; as there will be no Deeds, Bills, Bonds, &c. or any Kind of Writing done, but fuch as will have a direct Tendency to. promote the general Good of the School, which has constantly been the principal View of the Instructor, and on which Account he has rejected every Thing that he thought would be incompatible with the Duty of a Teacher. HUGH HUGHES.

To the Inhabitants of the City of New-York.

THE Subscriber has some time past, (and he trusts not without the approbation of his employers) taught a a Grammar School, next door to Doctor Murray's at the Flymarket; and hopes, those who know the worth of learning, and the most advantageous method of acquiring it, will on being acquainted with his plan render it worth his while to pursue a branch of business on which the good of community so much depends.

The subscriber is very sensible, that a bare advertisement of a school, can be no proof of its worth; and therefore defires (nor is his defire infincere) that any of his patrons, or friends of literature, who think it not beneath them, to inspect seminaries of learning, will visit his school, and critically observe his method of government and instruction; and that none may be disappointed, he gives the following sketch of each .-Nothing but instruction and correction disturbs the most profound filence,-all immorality is fure of the lash,-negligence of a frown, and industry of deserved praise.-Instead of losing the improvement of half a day's study, and spending the time in contracting idle and vicious habits, his pupils by attending school, Thursday's in the afternoon, gain the advantage of near a day in the week --- His method of instruction is very different from that of any teacher in town. It is that used and recommended from long experience, by the late Rev. Doctor Finley, and at present practifed by Meffrs. Reeves and Pemberton, at Elizabeth-Town; whether it be good or bad is refer'd to the determination of the reader .- He takes not a little pains to affift nature in making his pupils orators :-With what success those who will be kind enough to visit his school may observe.

He also teaches geometry, trigonometry, algebra, surveying, and navigation.—His price for instruction is 36s. per quarter; but as doubtless some estimate learning by the expence of acquiring it, he will take something more rather than lose a pupil. He also proposes about the first of April, to open a school to begin at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, for the assistance of young ladies in the study of geography, and logick.—He will be glad to serve such as shall think him worthy their encouragement, but employment from others, is not defired by

SUPPLEMENT to the NEW-YORK JOURNAL,
OR GENERAL ADVERTISER,—Numb. 1262.

To the PRINTERS.

GENTLEMEN. THE Paragraph in your Paper of laft Monday, respecting M'Govock, has been Matter of Surprife and Concern to many Perfons in this City; who, entertaining those Sentiments, for the Gentlemen in Custody at Montreal, which are due to that Esteem they have stood in hitherto with the World, yet being equally Friends to Justice and holding the Violence done to Mr. Walker in that Abhorrence which it deferves, have maintain'd all the Neutrality of Opinion with Regard to the Innocence of the accused, and the Credit due to the Teltimony of the Accuser, that the Case can possibly admit. It has certainly given feverer Concern to fuch, as the' equally abhorring the Crime, and defirous of having the Authors of it brought to Conviction, yet having liv'd in a particular Intercourte of Friendship, with all or any Number of them, must entertain for them that warm Regard of Heart inseparable from Sincerity in fuch Connections, and knowing of themfelves, or from unquestionable Report of others, how they floodengag'd when that abominable Fact was committed, notwithstanding the Information of Mr. M'Govock, are fully affur'd of their Innocence. I own myfelf to be of the latter Class; I have known all these Gentlemen personally for several Years, and been upon a Footing of Intimacy with some of them; we have been mutual Guefts at the Houses of one another, and in Proportion to the Continuance of the Familiarity between us, the more I have found in them to approve; and with Respect to those with whom I have had no such free Acquaintance; from what I have had, I have known them to be Men of Understanding and Manners, and to have supported amongst Mankind, by a uniformly becoming Conduct, that Dignity and Honour of Character, which is expected in Men of noble and genteel Extraction, and could grace the respectable Commissions in which they have serv'd their Country and Sovereign. I was therefore very deeply affected when I found the Account of an Attempt to atrocious and diabolical, introduced with the Addition to the Name of him it was defign'd against, of, the Soldier of the 28th Regiment, upon whose Teftimony the Prifoners now in Custody at Montreal were apprehended. Such a Paffage, tho' I do not believe it was intended by the Writer, could not fail of instantly directing the Thoughts of every common Reader, to those Gentlemen, as its Authors and Infligators, and confequently in Proportion to the Credit given to that Relation, must prejudice the very Jury by whom they may come to be tried upon the Cause of their Commitment. This, tho' I am affured very contrary to the Defign of the Writer, notwithstanding I have made no Inquiry who he is, would be to pervert Judgment instead of promoting it, and even contrary to the most upright Intentions of their own Minds, involuntarily deprive them of that noble Impartiality of Spirit which Cicero I think fomewhere fo fublimely and pathetically describes as the Temper with which Men, who are to determine a Cause, thould come to the House of Justice : I have not Time now to fearth for the Passage. Even without this Index in the Relation, pointing to directly to the Gentlemen in Custody, the bare Belief of such a Plot upon the Life of this Evidence, tends inevitably to prepoficis the Minds of the Public, in his Favour, and against all who may be brought to Trial upon his Information . I was fo fully convinc'd of this, that tho' it did not in the least shake my own faith in the Innocence of the Gentlemen at Montreal; vet on my hearing a verbal Account of this Transaction on the 10th Ult. from a Gentleman of excellent Understanding, enlarg'd in its Views, and ftrengthened in its Powers, by all the Aid that the feverest Application, and that to those Studies whence true Knowledge is to be drawn, and with a Heart'as good to direct its Pursuits, I was infinitely alarm'd for my Friends, and the Gentleman relating and receiving the Story much as it stands in your Paper, whatever Doubts I might then entertain with Regard to it, I chose to suppress them till I should canvas the whole I ransaction myself, as far as Opportunity thould permit me; I have accordingly done to, and thall proceed to give the State of it with perfect Impartiality and Fidelity as it appears to my clearest Judgment and Conscience, and as I doubt not but the Author of the Account in your Paper has related it altogether as he then thought of it, and with the View of bringing the Guilty to Conviction; truft I thall be found to tet it forth with equal Sincerity, tho' in a very different Light, and in Order to vindicate the In-

In pursuit of my Determination I went to the Prison on the 21st Ult in the Forenoon, and took with mea Gentleman of the medical Faculty and another Friend : We found M'Govock then not quite recover'd, and complaining of some Symptoms very commonly confequent to Vomitings and other Difcharges in bilious Cases, and peculiarly to any great Discharge of Blood, he spoke of himself as having been poison'd, and related the Manner of his receiving the Dram, which he suppos'd it conveyed in, much as it stands in your Paper, only that he mentioned a Voice under a Window of a Part of the Prison where he had been walking backward and forward being very familiar with his Name, and calling aloud, George! George M'Govock! Is George M'Govock here? Previous to all other Conversation, but that he saw nothing of the Face which it came from. And that it was r in the Afternoon, or fomething more, that is four Hours after he had taken the Dram, that he became tormented with that burning Heat in his Stomach which made him apply to heated Wine and Water for Relief, and from which he for a Time received it. But he made no Complaint at this Time of any Swelling or Hardness of Body, or any other afflicting Symptom ; on the Contrary I have receiv'd it repeatedly, and before Witnesses, from one who had been a Prisoner, and was all Day in the Prison, that he appear'd perfectly well, that in the Evening he was one at a Merry-making in one of the Prifoner's Rooms, where a Friend or two had came to spend the Evening, that M'Govook appear'd as well and cheerful as the rest of the Company, drank a Pint of Wine to his own Share; another l'erfon fays, a Quart of hot Wine and Water, which is confiftent with what I was told by the first, who spoke of the Wine only; that at 8 or 9 he went to Bed apparently well, that the others fat up fome Hours longer, and heard no Complaint of Illness till after they had been in Bed, that at two in the Morning, or rather after; they were called up and that M'Govock' was then indeed extremely ill, feem'd delirious, had convulfive spaims and was incapable of speaking. On this Young was fent for, who taking the Case to be apoplectick very judiciously proceeded to Bleeding, and took from him, as one, who flood by and held the Patiens, informs me, a Quart, and I am told Young fays Forty two Ounces - By some accidental opening of the Patient's Clothes in somewhat of a consultive struggle whilft bleeding, or foon after it, and not fill this Accident, his Body was observ'd to be swell'd, which is a plain Proof that the Swelling could not be very enormous, if it had, an Opening of his Clothes would not have been necessary to the Difcovery; but the Mind in that State of Perturbation which is natural to it upon extraordinary Incidents, is apt to view all Circumstances attending them, in a State of Aggravation, and will contequently deliver itself concerning them in Terms correspondent to it, and hence came the Term.enormous, apply'd to a Symptom, very common to bilious Cases, and therefore by no Means a diftinguishing Diagnostick of veneficial However, "by the Information of the Swelling," the penetrating " and fagacious MARK inftantly fmoak'd the Poiton." and with equal Skill and Alertness changes his Process of Operation, and from Phlebotomy has Recourfe to an Oleaginous Emetick, ferving at once to fheath as well as discharge the corroding and lacerating Particles which he imagined to be preying upon the Vitals of his Patient. In the Course of this Operation from the yellow Colour (the never failing one of bilious Vomits) of what was brought up, and no other Appearance that I have heard of, the preconceiv'd Notion of Poiton becomes confirm'd, and M'Govock eas'd by the Vomiting and reftor'd to his Sentes and Speech, very politely not to fay artificially, closes with the given-out Hypothelis of Poison, which he had no Conception of, and relates the Story of the Dram, from the Apparition with a Voice calling to him, with a Back and a Queue, but without a face, which he had not made the least mention of before What Ends to himself the Belief of such an Attempt upon him, and such a Tale might ferve, and how far this might influence him fo instantly to agree to the first, and confirm it by the last, I leave to the Reader. The whole Story in thort flands thus : At o M'Govock takes a Dose of Poison, under the Disguise of a Dram of Rum or Brandy, at one in the Afternoon, jour Hours after, he is feiz'd with a burning Heat within, and other violent Symptoms, the Effect of it, and takes hot Wine and Water to relieve him, and it does relieve him ; but if he had taken l'oisen, it would have increas'd the violent Pains and other Symptoms confequent to its Operation : It is also well known, that when Poison has begun to operate, so that its Effects are manitelt, there is no kemission of them till it has done all its Work; but M'Govock was well and merry-making in the Evening, drank a Quart of hot Wine and Water, went to Bed at 8 or 9 to all Appearance well ; and no Doubt flept fome Hours, as nothing was heard of him, tho' the Company "to oth store is the all fat up late, till two in the Morning, or later, when they had been fome little Time in Bed: But with a Quart of hot Wine and Water taken upon Poison, he must have been infantly in Tortures. When the House was awak'd he was sound extremely ill, and Young was sent for: He bled him to an amazing Quantity, which would have so fix'd the Operation of Poison as to put the Extirpation of it beyond all Power of Pharmacy; but it is frequently practic'd in bilious Disorders, and which as well as vomiting, I have seen attended with the happiest Effect, as hath been in the Case of M'Govock, Put all these together, and it is demonstrated impediable for him to have taken Poison, if he did take any Thing, in the Manner related. The whole Ground, upon which the Belief, of he having taken it, rests, is the Opinion of Mr. Mark Young, Surgeon. I must own I was not a little surpris'd to find the Name of so prosound an Adept with so sumple an Addition to it; for Mr. Mark Young is one of those Ingenia Autodidasta, that are always more reverentially mention'd, and under sub-limer Epithets, and as an Instance in the Art Military, has been honoured with the lasty Title of HEAVEN BORN, and been honoured with the lofty Title of HEAVEN BORN, and rewarded with a Munfub with the more fubitantial Addition of a Jaquire, fo, parvis camponere magna, I expected of my Friend MARK to have found his Name with the honourable Addition of, Professor in Phytick and Astrology, Oculist, Phlebotomift, Lithotomift, and Dentriticator, &c. By MARTIN DEVONSHIRE, Efq; TAIL mighty pow'r! triumphant victor hail! Whose arm, destructive, heav'n alone can stand; Whilft lofty oaks, whilft marble statues fail, And moulder into dust at thy command. Where are the boalts of art, the pride of pow'r,

Which fir'd the foul with puff'd ambition's flame? Where Balbec's fanes, or Babel's bulky tow'r? Blown into-nothing but an empty name. Like phantoms of Moonides's brain, Form'd to the Grecian camp defence to give;

Their place, their substance, you enquire in vain, For on the breath of fame they only live. Nor shall Egyptian might the fearful fate Of all thy weaker enemies evade;

The mummies rot, the pyramids, tho' late, Shall totter, piecemeal, on the trembling shade. Contentless thus to sport with human art, And sweep the gaudy surface of the ball, Thy greedy maw, unfatisfied with part,

Voraciously will one day fwallow all.-Here, no mean trophies of thy rage are feen; The falling battlement, and cracking roof; The nodding pillar cautioning, I ween, Th' admiring gazer far to keep aloof.

Here little cherubs hang the pensive head, To see the boast of heraldry o'erthrown; For, lo! the wing'd supporters both are fled, The field defac'd, and all the motto gone. From the high roof oft falls the laurel'd wreath. (No wonder anxious poets wait below) Remov'd by potent winds which underneath Impetuous thro' the paneless windows blow.

See too the plaster'd coronets descend, Height of ambition humbled with the dust ! Armour, unable longer to defend, That shroud of glory, all confumes in rust.

Here, one vast scene of glorious ruin lies; The orders all in rude disorder thrown The pendent scutcheons rent in woeful guise And mangled sculptures o'er the pavement strown, Where once was heard his Grace's awful word, And crowding fervants paid attendance foon,

In folemn filence—fave when night's dull bird In doleful plaint accosts the argent moon,-Walls, where the well-wrought tapeftry difplay'd Victorious heroes to the wond'ring view, In varied moss are only now array'd, Or mantling ivy's ever-vernal hue.

By nature taught, in nuptial leagues combine, A goldfinch joy'd to meet the chafte embrace, And heart and fortune with her mate to join. O'er nature's spacious walks at large they rang'd, No fettled haunts, no fix'd abode their claim; Now vale for hill, now hill for grove they chang'd, While ev'ry varying scene found them the same.

With mutual refolution they agreed, On rambling thoughts no more to bend their mind, But fettle foberly, and raife a breed.

All in a garden, on a currant bush, A wood-lark had a feat within a mile. How will the best laid project sometimes fail !

Such great designs as raise my tender tale. A wanton schoolboy, with too piercing eye, Descry'd the shade in which the songsters lay,

But how shall I relate, in numbers rude How the poor mother's heart began to bleed, When from a neighb'ring filbert hedge she view'd The barb'rous ruffian's facrilegious deed?

A CORNER House and Lot of Ground, to be fold, near the Baptist Meeting, on Golden-Hill, belonging to William Dobbs, now living in the House; for which he will give a good Title.

JOHN DAVAN,

Of the City of New-York, Breeches-maker, informs the Public, THAT he has removed from the Slip-market, to the house lately occupied by John Ute, near the Fly-market;—where he continues to make and sell, all kinds of leather-breeches as usual.—He begs leave to return thanks for the favours he has already received, and hopes for a continuance of his former customers, to whom it will be his constant study to give satisfaction.—New-York, 13th of Feb. 1767.

The Agood tenement next adjoining the above house, to be let, consisting of two good rooms, besides a shop, kitchen, and cellar, sit for a tradesman or shop-keeper.

To the PUBLICK.

THE subscriber intending to remove to New-York, will dispose of the ferry and farm that he now lives on (being on the East end of Staten-Island) by way of publick auction, on Thursday the 10th day of March next : The many conveniencies, with the Pleasantness of the situation of this place, would take up too much for an advertisement, to point out the whole of them ; fo shall be content to mention a few of the particulars. In regard to a ferry, it is the best situated on the Island, as the boats can go and come from New-York with most winds, and but one tide to encounter with, which is of great eafe to the paffengers, and is the reason that it is more frequented than any of the rest of the ferries ; it has also a considerable run for carrying passengers to Long-Island, which brings in a handsome yearly income. Most of the shipping that goes out of New-York, anchors just opposite the door, being the anchoring-ground for the watering place, which makes it not only very pleasant, but of considerable advantage to the place, in carrying the paffengers and flips crews backwards and forwards to New-York: It also occasions a great run to the house, which is the very sinew of a tavern. The boats that attend this ferry, are often employed to run down to the Hook, with difpatches for veffels that may be there; and the men of war which often lie here, employ them to bring their ship's stores, &c. from New-Fork. There is an excellent dock for the conveniency of the boats; and the best roads on the island are from this place to Amboy, the old and new Blazing-Star, and Elizabeth-Town Point. The ferry and twenty acres of land will be fold by itself: There are also fixty more, with a sufficient quantity of wood land on it, will be fold with the rest or separately, as it may best suit the purchaser, On the twenty acres that belong to the ferry, twenty tons of choice English hay having been cut this feafon, and as much more may be cut in a fort time, with very little expence. There is plenty of pasture, a good barn, stable and two other out bouses, all on the above mentioned lot. The situation of the place is extremely pleasant, the house standing on a rising ground, which commands an agreeable prospect of the city of New-York on one side, and the narrows on the other : The garden that is before the door, is laid out in a pretty tafte, and has been lately railed in and painted in the handfornest manner. There is great plenty of fife, and game in the proper feafons to be had at this place. It is a delightful fituation for a gentleman, and it has all the conveniency that is requisite for a ship carpenter: It is also well situated for a farmer, the land being rich, well cleared and drained. The whole farm is under good new fence, and great advantage may be made by gardening, being only nine miles from New-York market:

Whoever purchases the whole, will have a great advantage in saving their pasture, as there is a fine out-let and shore for grazing. Any person inclining to purchase the above premises before the day of sale, may come and view them, and know the conditions of sale, by applying to the Owner,

The same time there will be sold, three very good boats,
